

SWAT Analyses of the programmes on MA degree in BSU

| Analysis                |               | Internal origin                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                    | External origin                                                                                                                                        |                                                  |
|-------------------------|---------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|
|                         |               | STRENGTHSHelpful to achieving the objective                                    | WEAKNESSESHarmful to achieve the objective                                                                                                                                                     | OPPORTUNITIESHelpful to achieving the objective                                                                                                    | THREATSHarmful to achieve the objective      |
| Course content          | Master degree | 1.Availability of research and teaching trainings,2.Learning foreign languages | 1.Lack of laboratory courses, main of courses are in form of seminars (workshops),2.Availability of the humanities3.Lack of elective courses4.Availability a lot of compulsory courses | 1.Elaborate the curricula corresponding to European requirements,2.Conducting practical sessions in the field and laboratory, learning new methods | Application of new methods on current conditions |
| Duration, months        | Master degree | 24                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                        |                                                  |
|                         | PhD degree    | 36                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                        |                                                  |
| Number of credits, ECTS | Master degree | 120                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                        |                                                  |
|                         | PhD degree    | Non-credit system                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                        |                                                  |